REMARKS

Applicant wishes to thank the Examiner for the detailed remarks. Claims 1, 4, and 10-12 have been amended. Claims 2, 3, 7, 8, and 9 have been cancelled. New claims 13-23 are presented. Accordingly, claims 1, 4-6, and 10-21 are pending.

Claims 1-12 were rejected under 35 U.S.C. §102(b) as being anticipated by Iwata. Applicant's claim 1 recites a fluid circulation circuit and a fluid for circulation through a cavity, which are not disclosed by Iwata. The chamber 1 disclosed in Iwata is not part of a circulation circuit. Inlet ports 23 and 77 of Iwata each include respective plugs 24 and 78 that prevent circulation of liquid through the chamber 1 (see col. 3, lines 64-67 and col. 5, lines 32-35). Further, the liquid is sealed within the chamber 1 and does not circulate through the chamber 1, as indicated by the space 14 adjacent to the chamber 1 that accommodates thermal expansion of the liquid sealed within the cavity 1 (see col.3, lines 16-19). Accordingly, claim 1 is properly allowable.

Claim 10 recites a fluid pump that circulates the dielectric fluid through the fluid inlet into the cavity and out of the fluid outlet. Iwata fails to disclose or suggest a fluid pump. The liquid is sealed in the chamber 1 and is not pumped through the chamber 1 to circulate through an outside circuit.

Claim 12 recites a filter connected upstream of the housing to filter particles from the dielectric fluid before the fluid is sent to the cavity. Iwata does not disclose a filter. The liquid is sealed in the chamber 1 and does not require a filter to remove particles from within a circuit.

New claims 13-21 recite additional features of the present invention, which are neither disclosed nor suggested by the cited reference and are thus properly allowable.

Applicant believes that no additional fees are necessary, however, the Commissioner is authorized to charge Deposit Account No. 50-1482 in the name of Carlson, Gaskey & Olds for any additional fees or credit the account for any overpayment.
